GRADING U.S. COINS

Macomb Community College Sports & Expo Center,
14500 East 12 Mile, Warren, MI (Building P)

Sponsored by MSNS

Saturday, November 26, 2016 9am-Noon

FEATURING:

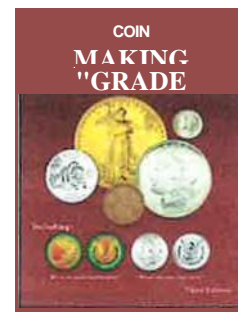

Instructor Steve Roach (pictured): former editor-in-chief and current editor-at-large of Coin World, former grader at ANACS and Heritage Auctions, co-instructor at ANA Summer Seminar.

Description: A 3 hour class where students will participate in 45 minutes of discussion on the general concepts of grading and then go through and grade coins in conditions similar to those used in third-party grading services. After students look at coins, I go coin-by-coin and discuss the results, explaining why PCGS/NGC/ANACS graded the coins as they did. The coins have been selected for their potential teaching lessons with some exciting rarities thrown in. The goals are for students to get an understanding of grading, how grading services work, a basic understanding of what "problem" coins are (and how the definition is fluid) and some pointers on how professional graders work. This class is designed to be lighthearted and fun.

Every Student Receives: Coin World "Making The Grade" book.

Non-MSNS-Members also receive: 1 Year MSNS Membership
